ENEMIES OF BASIC U. S. LAW ASSAILED

Judge Lueck, in Rotary Speech, Condemns Attacks on Supreme Court Power.

Attacks upon the power of the courts to pass upon the constitutionality of laws have become a menace to the nation, declared Circuit Judge Martin Lueck, of Beaver Dam, democratic nominee for governor, in an address before the local Rotary club at the Grand Hotel Sunday morning. Many members of the Janesville bar were present as guests of the Rotarians.

The judge made his assertion in a talk upon the constitution, which he held to be the fundamental law of the country and the greatest piece of legislation that has ever been enacted.

Any movement that would give to Congress the power to pass a law over the veto of the supreme court would violate the constitution, he declared, adding:

"The courts do not exercise any supervisory control over the legislature or over Congress. They cannot stop Congress from passing a law which is unconstitutional or unconstitutional. If Congress asked the supreme court to pass judgment on whether a proposed law would be constitutional, the court would not respond. When a citizen stands before the court and appeals for protection of his rights, the court must act because there is no other agency to which he can look for the protection of his rights."

Plans to give to Congress the right to pass a law over a veto of the court, he said, would be a violation of the constitution. It is not the duty of the courts to pass upon the constitutionality of laws, he said, and its enactment is the opinion only of those who adopted them, which is not a majority of the body.

The judge declared attacks upon the power of courts to decide matters of constitutionality are attempts to get the nation away from a government of principles and make it one of men. Jefferson, he quoted, said a government of men cannot and will not live, and that the principles of the constitution must be adhered to.

"I do not know how far this attack will progress," he said, "but it must be stopped. We owe something to posterity to hand down to them what we have inherited. I will do all I can to prevent the spread of such propaganda and if you believe in your country and your constitution, you will do the same."

Should Perpetuate Ideals
Asserting that America is the growth of an ideal and the development of humanism and self-sacrifice, he pointed to the constitution as an expression of enduring theories of government which must be perpetuated and not allowed to pass to a government of men.

The speaker described the powers of the government and illustrated how legislation by the federal congress is often regarded as the expression of the people's will, but such laws can be changed to some power granted by the constitution.

Judge Lueck condemned any change that the courts work only for the benefit of the wealthy. He pointed to a decision that declared unconstitutional laws in Ohio, Iowa, and Nebraska as a violation of the constitution.

THE GIRL WHO BARED HER SOUL

When Elizabeth promised to be Robert's wife, she did not know what lengths of self-sacrifice and devotion a woman will go who is taken with envy and jealousy. In her inexperience of life, she was to learn that while the mills of the gods grind slowly, they grind exceeding fine—and that her courage and devotion would have to meet tests that few women can meet and emerge strong and unscathed.

"In Forever After," Elizabeth bares her soul with fearless frankness. It is a gripping story—yet it is only one of the many remarkable features in October True Story, now on sale at all newsstands.

The Able McLaughlins

By MARGARET WILSON
(Copyright Harper & Bro.)

This is the story of Wally McLaughlin and his mother-in-law, Mrs. McLaughlin, who have been living together for many years. Wally is a young man who has been in the army and is now home. Mrs. McLaughlin is a woman who has been in the army and is now home. They are both very able and have many interesting stories to tell.

So February passed, and March came, and then April. Wally and Mrs. McLaughlin were both very busy. Wally was working on his farm and Mrs. McLaughlin was working on her farm. They were both very happy and had many interesting stories to tell.

CHAPTER XI.
The infancy of Christie's condition, becoming known, had been a very interesting thing to Mrs. McLaughlin. She had been told that she was a very able woman and that she was a very able woman. She had been told that she was a very able woman and that she was a very able woman.

Christie had come with his mother-in-law, Mrs. McLaughlin, and his father-in-law, Mr. McLaughlin. They were all very happy and had many interesting stories to tell. Christie was a very able man and had many interesting stories to tell.

FROM PERSONAL EXPERIENCE

Mrs. Bradford Recommends Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Phoebe, Virginia.—"Having this opportunity I just cannot refrain from saying a word of praise for the Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. I have used them as occasion required for twenty years, and my three sisters have also used them, and always with the most gratifying results. During the change of life I had the usual distressing symptoms, such as flashes, insomnia, etc., and I am pleased to testify to the wonderful results I obtained from the Vegetable Compound. I heartily recommend it to any woman and I will be pleased to answer any inquiries that might be sent to me through the publication of this testimonial."—Mrs. H. L. BRADFORD, 109 Armistead St., Phoebe, Va. Consider carefully Mrs. Bradford's letter. Her experience ought to help you. She mentions the trials of middle age and the wonderful results obtained from Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. If you are suffering from nervous troubles, irritability, or if other annoying symptoms appear and you are blue at times, you should give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. For sale by druggists everywhere.

YOUR BABY and MINE

By MYRTLE MEYER ELDRED

Mrs. Eldred is happy to advise all mothers about the care of their children of any age, or on any subject which does not belong in the field of the doctor.

Mamie writes: Please excuse me if I ask questions that have been answered before, but I do not always have a chance to read the paper. Some of the mothers in this neighborhood say not to let my 6-month-old boy creep. Some say just the opposite. Is it necessary to use dextri-maltose? I give the baby a teaspoonful in each bottle and it does not disagree with him, but would gratified the doctor. The granulated sugar, if it agrees.

Shouldn't I be boiled and how often. Since good wishes for your future success in this good work.

Answer: Put the baby on the floor on a quilt and let him do as he pleases. He likely won't creep so young, but the more chance he has for natural exercise the better for him. The granulated sugar, if it agrees.

Heart and Home Problems

Letters May Be Addressed to Mrs. Thompson, in Care of the Gazette.

HEART-BROKEN DAUGHTER: Dear Mrs. Thompson: There are four of us children. Our father died just four months ago and one of our children is a woman of 46 has been deeply in love with a man a great deal younger than herself. My three brothers and I are against it as she is not young enough for him. We are not sure if we should let her go or not. We are not sure if we should let her go or not. We are not sure if we should let her go or not.

THE OTHER SIDE: Dear Mrs. Thompson: You got so many letters from unhappy wives. I am a young married lady with a little child and my husband and I are not getting on very well. I am not sure if we should let her go or not. We are not sure if we should let her go or not. We are not sure if we should let her go or not.

Trim off all split ends from your hair, and massage the scalp enough to keep up a good circulation; you probably will not need to give it any other treatment.

Mrs. L. S. E. writes: I have a boy of 17 months who weighs 23 pounds. He is active and walks and climbs everywhere. The bottom of his ribs are bare out. He always has a protruding stomach and now that he is outgrowing this ribs show worse than ever. He has cereal, meat, eggs, green vegetables, baked potatoes and fruit. He sleeps about two or three hours during the day. The doctor says he is a fine boy, but I wonder about his protruding ribs.

Answer: The American was drawing the long bow. "On one occasion," he said, "I shot 99 birds."

The Englishman determined not to be outdone, began to tell a story of a man who swam from Liverpool to New York.

"Did you see him yourself?" inquired the American.

"Why, yes, of course. I was coming across the water, and our vessel passed him a mile outside New York harbor."

"Well," was the retort, "I'm glad you saw him, stranger, because you're a witness that I did it. I was that swimmer."

There was a good deal of excitement in the village when notices appeared announcing that the local minister would, that night, address a meeting on the subject of "The Perfect Woman—Where is She?"

He had quite a good audience, and soon got warmed up to his subject.

"Now," he said, during the course of his address, "I ask you, has anyone ever seen or heard of a perfect woman?"

"Yes, sir, I have heard of the woman you mention."

"Who was it?" inquired the speaker.

"My husband's first wife," replied the gaunt one feelingly.

The old tradition concerning the Scotch cannibals when there's a penny in sight receives a new boost by the following story. A sportsman who had been shooting on a highland moor became lost in a sudden mist. He tramped about hopelessly until the light failed, and at last, when he was beginning to become really anxious, he heard the sound of footsteps near at hand. The sportsman shouted: "Hallo! Hallo! There! I'm lost!"

"For answer came a cautious voice out of the gloom: 'Ay, but is there any reward for findin' ye?'"

Inquirer.—At 13 years of age, height five feet, five inches, your weight of 125 lbs. is all right even though it is a few pounds above the average.

With gray eyes and light brown hair you should strengthen your coloring by wearing rich shades in browns, reds and blues.

Wandering A. C.—The shampoo you have been using has probably not been suited to your scalp. Try a soft soap made by dissolving castile in hot water. Massage your scalp every day to improve its circulation.

Mrs. R. J.—You will have just as much milk for the baby and you will not be getting so stout yourself if you stop drinking cocoa and rich milk. Drink liquids if you find it necessary, but confine them to those that do not contain fats. You may not need anything in liquid form but plenty of water.

Julie—Dab a little witch hazel on the swollen pore left from the pimple. The weight of makeup from forming a blackhead. Rice powder makes a better choice for the complexion than corn starch because it is much drier and more apt to stay on the skin.

Put—Your weight of 115 pounds with a height of five feet one inch, at 19 years of age is normal, so the large stomach must be due to a bad way of standing and sitting. The fact that you do not wear corsets has nothing to do with the condition. Consult the doctor about enlarged veins on the hands.

Bluen—One hundred and four pounds at your age, with a height of five feet, would be normal. To overcome the oily skin and scalp, eat less rich foods and drink more water.

WHO is going to win the pennant in the American league? Who is going to win the flag in the National league? That is the question that is paramount in the mind of every baseball fan in the nation right now. It will continue to be so from now until the latter part of September, when the percentage column will show the winners in each case. With two of the most startling changes ever heard of in the majors, everywhere is heard the remark: "Well, I hope the Yanks don't win" and "I hope the Giants lose out." That is, everywhere but Manhattan Island. There is one part of New York city that doesn't want the Yankees to win and that is Squire R. J. Bennett's division over in the Flatbush environs of Brooklyn.

AFTER making the above statements, the fans settle down to a measure of favoring one or the other. "I'd like to see Washington take it in the American," or "I'd be glad to see 'Coby grab it." There are those that want to see the Senators cop out of pure desire to see the youngest manager in the younger circuit come out on top. The manner in which young Harris, given nothing but perhaps a fourth place chance at the beginning of the season, has come out, has been as spectacular as anything that has ever occurred in organized baseball. Many want to see Washington take it because it has never had a pennant.

THEN, there are the folks that have long admired Ty Cobb. They like him for his person, playing ability. They like him for the way he has managed his club. Now for the Nationals, Pittsburgh seems to be favored mostly. This is perhaps due to the fact that the Pirates have been trying all season to make a clean job of scuttling the ship of which they believe is McGraw. McGraw has been the pilot for ten long years. Brooklyn has come into the running only lately, but Dazzy Vance's great pitching has caused many to shift their admiration. All in all, spectators on the sidelines and the fans made by the newspapers have grown tired of New York holding the bag so long. One fan put it this way: "I'd like to see one of the other teams win because they will win on their merits. McGraw, for instance, has been sitting on a chest of gold for too long, opening it up to buy stars that other teams have developed. 'Muggsy' doesn't develop on his own. He waits until some one else develops then grabs him up. Hope he loses."

John Hammond, right handed pitcher, was purchased by Minneapolis of the American association from Florida. Three Eye League.

DIAMOND SPARKLES

Robbie, nestled on the pennant flag pole and twirled from the rafters of the Polo grounds Tuesday while John McGraw sat in his dugout and speculated upon the visitation. Wilbert, the wonder, and his hand upon the green turf of the field Monday to the roof raising yells of thousands of Brooklyn fans who had gathered around the famous bridge to see the second game of the little world series. Dazzy Vance, cock robin of the round-the-belt, stepped upon the mound and threw the fastest ball in captivity at the Giant army assembled for a final stand beneath historic Coogan's Bluff, and if neither Brooklyn nor New York won a world series next month, the 40,000 spectators at Monday's battle will not have been entirely deceived of its thrills. The Yankees won 2-1 and Tuesday began their final effort for the pennant on the home lot, only one half game behind the Giants and with a one and one-half contest lead over the Pirates, who, with all other National league clubs, were idle Monday. The Yankees, fighting grimly to recover the two game lead, won 2-0, and the Irish led the Red Sox to two hits. Fullerton allowed only four runs—the 8th, when Dugan singled and Ruth accepted the throw of the pitcher, and hit his 44th homer for the only scores of the game. Washington retained its advantage, however, with Walter, president, who, after an early lead for an 8-4 verdict over the Athletics, Hauser and Miller hit homers with none on base. The St. Louis champion, however, was postponed by rain. No others were scheduled.

U. S. Poloists Meet British : Start Plans

Yankee Win Expected Tuesday

New York—America and England with four teams will meet Tuesday at Meadowbrook, in the first of a series of three polo matches for the possession of the international championship now held by the United States. The second game will be played next Saturday and the third probably Sept. 17.

Apart from the pure sporting interest of the meeting which is generally forecast as a victory for the American big four, the match will attract the most colorful background of any sportsman held during this year of impressive athletic contests.

The Prince of Wales, General President, Attorney General, Secretaries Hoover, Wallace, Davis and Weeks and leaders in business and social life will be among a crowd of 10,000.

The English team, whose form in practice games during the last few weeks has been mediocre, will be further handicapped by the absence of its star back and captain, Lord Lacey, who after being kept out of most of the practice games with an injured shoulder, was stricken this week with an attack of shingles.

WALLES PLAYS AT POLO:

THEN GOES TO MATCHES

Sossex, L. E.—A game of polo in the morning and a trip to Meadowbrook club to see the international polo match in the afternoon were the chief events on the program of the Prince of Wales Tuesday.

He wants to get in as much polo play as possible while on Long Island, for his plans for the next 18 months are such as to exclude the "knu".

The prince visited Mitchell Field Monday and joined the New York reception committee and the British ambassador in greeting the round-the-world fliers.

HURLS 19 FRAMES; WINS TWO BATTLES; BEATS HOME TOWN

[SPECIAL TO THE GAZETTE]

Jefferson—Here is the strong man of the International baseball league. Walter Kielbaso, captured 12 innings for Jefferson two weeks ago and, through his clever hurling, Jefferson was able to take two games which would have been lost. Kielbaso defeated 7 to 2, and Waterhouse hit the dust, 5 to 4. The second battle went for 10 runs, 6 to 0, as Kielbaso, who had "swaced" for Kielbaso, for his home is at Watertown.

HARRY WILLS LUIS FIRPO

By NORMAN E. BROWN

Luis Firpo, the only man who ever knocked champion Jack Dempsey into a corner, is in a championship fight, is preparing himself now for a battle which he hopes will carry him to another meeting with Dempsey.

Firpo, middle Harry Wills, perennial black champion, Thursday, dispatched Firpo's camp, spoke repeatedly of Firpo's efforts to perfect his left hand. This "info" is the most interesting bit that comes from either camp. It indicates that someone has had Firpo realize the vital necessity of owning a good left hand.

There are four openings.

The league will roll on Wednesday nights at 7 and 9 o'clock. The date for starting the circuit will not be set until the loop is filled.

Any bowler of any league outside of the I-C whose average is 160 or over last season will be barred from rolling in the I-C. It was decided, unless that bowler is employed by the firm entering a team, that he must be a member of the I-C.

More definite plans were made three-fifths representation on the drives from the firm it represents. Absent men will take the low score of the opposing team.

The following protest committee was named: Frank Schultz, chairman; Jimmy King and Otto Muehlen.

CITY LEAGUE TO HOLD

DOWN TO TWELVE TEAMS

The city league will consist of 12 teams this season, it was decided at a meeting of captains held at the Grebe & Newman alleys, Monday night. More definite plans were made over until another meeting which is to be held at the same place on Friday at 7:30 p. m. The teams that rolled last year have not all designated their intention of being in the membership again this year.

The circuit is to roll on Tuesday nights at 7 and 9 o'clock. There will be no limitation on membership in the teams.

A committee to call on last year's members to get their decision for this season was appointed as follows: Earl Merck, Herbert Huebel and R. Bortz.

The Jakoby club Monday night started the ball rolling on its bowling league. A committee of captains

Chevrolet and Fisher Body may join in one 16 league loop and roll on the East Side alleys. The Elks are planning a league to roll on Thursday nights. Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions are each expected to have circuits. The Janesville Products, Parker Pen and Y. W. C. A. have yet to make their decision.

A meeting of the Janesville Bowling association is to be held in the Grebe & Newman alleys next Monday at 7:30 p. m. Officers for the ensuing year are to be elected.

Leo Pierson, Errol Winter and Ed Spaulding were named as a special committee.

Further discussion will be taken up at the regular meeting of the local chapter to be held in city hall at 8 p. m. next Tuesday, when information that will come from the state board of directors meeting at Milwaukee, Friday, will be presented.

MAY RECALL JONES

Indianapolis fans are viewing with alarm the report that Brooklyn plans to recall the team of Jones, who was started by the board of directors of the local chapter Monday night. The meeting was held in the office of Ira P. Wortendyke, vice president.
